The Dutch model Annely Bouma, 26, has appeared in campaigns for Vivienne Westwood and is the face of Jil Sander. She grew up in Leeuwarden, a town in the north of Holland, lived in Australia for a few years, and these days is based between New York and London, mostly living out of a suitcase. For our jewellery shoot, Bouma travelled to the sand dunes of Gran Canaria. Here she shares a few of her favourite things.

Fashion I don't like shopping, but when I see something nice at a shoot I buy it afterwards. I'm a T-shirt-and-jeans girl; I love my baggy Levi's. But with clothes and material stuff I tend to think, what would I rather do: go on a trip or buy clothes? And usually a trip wins. I'd rather spend my money on experiences.

Beauty You have only one skin so I take care of mine. I use a face wash and day cream by Louis Widmer. A dermatologist once told me about it and I've been using it ever since. I always wear sunscreen and like all the body products from the Pure Fiji brand. I've been wearing Dolce & Gabbana's The One fragrance for years. One of my friends had it and then she moved and I missed the smell so much.

Exercise Pilates and walking are how I like to exercise. When I'm in London

I go to Tempo Pilates, which is a cardio workout as well. It makes you feel so strong and toned. I also go to Barry's Bootcamp when I need a fitness boost. I studied sports at university in Holland so I'm careful and know what I'm doing.

Guilty pleasure I love food in general, but have a soft spot for chocolate; my favourite is Lindt's dark chocolate with sea salt. I'm a big breakfast person; the best I've ever had was at Three Blue Ducks in Sydney. Their muffins are absolutely amazing.

Music I love live music. My favourite festivals are Into the Great Wide Open and MadNes. Both take place on islands in the Netherlands.

Social media I use Instagram (@annelybouma) but I find it really sad that as a model your social media following is taken into account when you're being cast for jobs, because it shouldn't depend on that. I think clients should look at what girl suits their brand, not how many Instagram followers she has.

Assets My biggest luxury is that I'm really close to my parents. I've always had their support and I don't think everybody has that. This job is a luxury too. It's hard work but it gives you a lot of opportunities to see the world, make money and work with different people. It's good life experience. Interview by Bibby Sowray
